DISCOVER SERIES

EDUCATION & STEM SERIES AT THE PARK

The Trash Pandas Baseball, and dozens of STEM-related community partners will host Hands-On STEM Days at the Ballpark

Tired of boring field trips? Education Days at the Ballpark provides elementary, middle and high school students in North Alabama the unique opportunity to learn outside of a classroom setting. The Trash Pandas Baseball strive to bring excitement and fun-filled learning to the ballpark and we encourage you to plan your lesson plans around your field trip to the ballpark!

Our STEM-focused education days (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics), offer a fun and educational outing featuring STEM exploration stations, activities, experiments and Trash Panda baseball.

The annual event is focused on not only getting kids excited about baseball, but sparking students' curiosity in science, technology, engineering and math and the STEM industry opportunities that exist throughout the region. Participating educators are inspired with creative ways they can incorporate hands-on, minds-on STEM learning into the classroom and receive teaching tools from participating partners.

STEM exploration stations feature STEM activities and experiments covering topics such as biology, chemistry, computer science, density, electricity, environmental science, information theory, the NASA Space Program, oil and natural gas, ocean science Petroleum Engineering, physics, robotics, service learning, space science, virtual reality, water quality and more!

School group tickets must be purchased in advance through the Trash Pandas Baseball Group Sales department. Game day tickets will also be available for the general public.
