Prior to the concert, the Herd defeat the Chiefs, 8-4...July 18: A soldout crowd of 17,600 pack Coca-Cola Field for the 8th annual Star Wars Night. They are greeted to a 5-1 win over the Clippers...September 1: Infielder Matt Hague is named the International League's Most Valuable Player, the ninth Bisons player to receive such honor. He will go on to lead the IL in average (.338), hits (177) and with a Bisons' modern era record .416 on-base percentage.

2016 SEASON

April 12: The Bisons and Blue Jays announce a two-year extension of their Player Development Contract, keeping the Bisons as Toronto's Triple-A affiliate through the 2018 season...April 14: After starting the season on the road, the Bisons defeat Rochester in the 29th Home Opener in front of 13,102...May 31: Drew Hutchison retires the first 17 batters he faces in a 5-1 win over Columbus. The perfect game bid is broken up with a single by Bryson Myles...June 1: A School Kids' Day crowd of 16,866 watch the Bisons shutout Columbus, 4-0...June 11: The Bisons host a #KeepBradySuspended night in rebuttal of the Pawtucket Red Sox hosting a promotion the night before supporting New England Patriots quarterback, Tom Brady. The dueling promotions gain national attention. However, the Bisons are swept in the doubleheader by Charlotte...July 3: The Bisons fall to Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, 3-2, in front of a crowd of 17,332 on the 22nd annual KeyBank Independence Eve Celebration...July 23: For the fourth consecutive year, the Bisons sell out their annual Star Wars Night. A crowd of 17,600 watch rehabbing Blue Jays star Jose Bautista and the Bisons fall to Gwinnett, 2-1...August 13: The Bisons suffer their one and only rainout of the season as they are unable to host Pawtucket.

2017 SEASON

April 8: After back-to-back postponements to begin the year, the Bisons finally get the 30th Season at Coca-Cola Field underway with a 4-2 victory over the defending champion Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders...May 19: A crowd of 12,380 watch a marathon Bisons' 7-5 win over the Red Sox that goes 13 innings and takes four hours and 29 minutes to complete. The game is started by rehabbing Boston ace David Price and ends with two position players earning the decision. Outfielder Ian Parmley earns the win for Buffalo while Rowdy Tellez hits the walk-off two-run homer off PawSox infielder, Mike Miller...June 2: Another sold out crowd enjoys the 10th annual Star Wars Night and a 4-0 victory over the Knights. At 16,907, it is the largest-attended minor league game of the year...July 3: The Bisons get a very symbolic spot start as former Army First Lieutenant Chris Rowley takes the ball for the 23rd annual KeyBank Independence Eve Celebration and leads the Herd to a 6-2 victory over Syracuse. In his first Triple-A start, Rowley strikes out six and allows just one run over five innings for the win...August 30: In one of the most-anticipated off-the-field events in the ballpark history, the racing mascot 'Celery' earns its first victory in 450 attempts in the nightly WCC (Wing, Cheese & Celery) Race. The quest for #JustOneWin before Celery's impending retirement is the talk of the town and draws a crowd of 16,463 to the ballpark. After Pawtucket's 7-5, 12-inning victory over the Herd, Celery earns this historic win postgame.

NOTE: Statistics reflect regular season games only. Also, these statistics, and those on the following pages, do not include the following.

*2007: The two games the Bisons played as the 'home team' in Richmond because all four Braves/Bisons games scheduled in Buffalo were postponed.

2012: The Bisons played six games as the 'road' team against the Scranton/Wilkes-Barre Yankees at Coca-Cola Field. These statistics include those games, but exclude a 'home' game played by the Bisons in Syracuse on August 6 because of a rainout two days earlier in Buffalo.

2014: The game the Bisons served as the 'home team' on August 7 in Durham because of a rainout on July 13 in Buffalo.

*2017: The game the Bisons served as the 'home team' on April 26 in Norfolk because of a rainout on April 20 in Buffalo.
