

james@rawhidebaseball.com

James was born and raised in a small town in Oregon and was an avid sports fan from the beginning. He went to Oregon State University, and attended all sporting events while also coaching high school baseball and working part-time at the local golf course. After spending a short time on the East Coast, James moved back west for a job in the sport he loves.

College: Oregon State

Hometown: McMinnville, OR

Favorite Sports Team: Oregon State Beavers

Most Hated Sports Team: Oregon Ducks

Favorite Meal: Sushi

Favorite Movie: Tommy Boy / Happy Gilmore

The one thing you would need on a desert island: My golf clubs

Song that pumps you up: Eye of the Tiger

Pet Peeve: Loud eaters

Nickname: JT3

Favorite Comic Book Character: Superman

Desired Super Power: Flying

Favorite Subject in School: History

Highlight of Sports Career: Winning back-to-back high school baseball league championships, making 2 Hole-In-Ones in golf