

joanna@rawhidebaseball.com

Joanna grew up in Harrison, in Westchester County, New York. She grew up practicing Taekwondo, swimming, rowing, and playing in marching band. After graduating from Harrison High School in 2011, she earned a degree in Cognitive Neurosciences and Psychology from Northwestern University in 2015, and later earned a Masters of Science in Sports Business Management from Manhattanville College in 2018. She has been practicing Taekwondo since 1998, and earned her third-degree black belt in 2017. When she heard “there might be an opening at Visalia next year”, she jumped on it.

College: BA: Northwestern University; MS: Manhattanville College

Hometown: Harrison, NY

Favorite Sports Team: New York Mets

Most Hated Sports Team: either the New York Yankees or the Philadelphia Phillies

Favorite Meal: something Italian

Favorite Movie: The Matrix

The one thing you would need on a deserted island: bowie knife

Song that pumps you up: I'll Make a Man Out of You – from Mulan

Pet Peeve: Slow walkers, and not using a turn signal when you merge

Nickname: Scarlett, and Tequilla

Favorite Comic Book character: Black Widow or Superman

Desired Super Power: The ability to refill anything

Favorite Subject in School: Psychology

Highlight of sports career: I'm a third degree blackbelt in Taekwondo. I began in 1998 and I am still training.