LEXINGTON LEGENDS COVID-19 FAQ'S

When will the season start?

Following Major League Baseball's decision to delay the season due to COVID-19, there is no official start date for the regular season at this time. As soon as we have an updated start date, we will communicate that to you.

How will the schedule be adjusted for the 2020 season?

Both Major League Baseball and Minor League Baseball are currently developing a plan for the 2020 season, but at this time, there is no decision on the number of games, or how the 2020 season will be scheduled.

I have tickets to Opening Day and/or a game in April, what do I do?

The Legends home opener, originally scheduled for Thursday, April 9th will not be played on that date. We ask that everyone keep their tickets for all future delayed games as Minor League Baseball and the Legends continue to develop a plan for ticket holders. All updates will be announced on the Legends' social media channels for any games that are affected by this delay.

I am a Season Ticket Holder, what are my options/next steps?

First of all, thank you for your continued support of the Legends. Because of the "No Ticket Unused" program, your tickets from any game that is delayed, or not played, will be available to use for any other game during the 2020 season. If you have any additional questions, your Season Ticket representative will be able to assist.

I have tickets to the I65 vs. I75 Legends Hot Rods game, is the game still happening and what do I do with my tickets?

We will make every effort to reschedule this game. If we are unable to reschedule, your tickets to this game will be good for any future Legends home game.
