HOWDY PARTNERS

It’s time once again to get out your cowboy boots and ten-gallon hats and saddle up for the 110th annual Baseball Winter Meetings™ in Dallas, Texas! From December 5-8, executives from every level of professional baseball will converge on the Hilton Anatole. The Hilton Anatole is an old friend to the industry, having hosted the Baseball Winter Meetings six times prior to this year.

Everything’s bigger in Texas, including the Baseball Winter Meetings. Nearly 3,000 people are expected to be corralled into Dallas for this annual baseball event. Over the course of the four day convention, representatives from all 30 Major League Baseball organizations and more than 160 Minor League Baseball™ teams will be joined by various league offices, companies associated with baseball and guests from international baseball-playing countries to celebrate and honor the achievements of the 2011 season.

The Baseball Winter Meetings allows owners and executives a setting to come together, review the successes and failures of the 2011 season, and plan for 2012. There will be a large number of meetings and function scheduled throughout the week, most notably the Freitas Seminar, where industry experts will have the opportunity to share and learn ideas from their peers. The PBEO® Job Fair will provide the opportunity for organizations to fill their openings from a pool of more than 400 eager and qualified job seekers. The Baseball Trade Show™ will feature approximately 300 exhibitors, displaying a wide variety of products and services that teams can test, discuss and purchase on the spot.

Though it is a time for business, there will be plenty of time for fun! Executives from every level and aspect of the baseball industry will have the opportunity to catch up with old friends, build new relationships, relive old memories and create new ones. Attendees can socialize during the Gala, which is being held at Rangers Ballpark in Arlington. Enjoy food, drink and entertainment at what is sure to be a first-rate social event.
